TIGERS BREAK EVEN WITH AMES AGGIES

Clarke fanned Kercheval, Castillo and Harper in rapid succession.

Ames Dangerous in Sixth.

The sixth was the only inning in which an Ames tally seemed imminent. A single and a throw by Besheer that pulled Hackney off first base put men on first and second. Harper then gave a base on balls. The bases were filled with only one out. But Harper caused Miller to fly to Hackney and McMillan was out, O'Byrne to "Hack."

Two sensational catches by Hall also had much to do with keeping Ames from scoring. Twice Malloy, the Aggie first baseman hit far over Hall's head, but each time the Tiger centerfielder made a long run and pulled down the ball. The second catch was the prettiest seen on Rollins Field in several years.

Helmreich, Hackney and O'Byrne got the three hits credited to Missouri. Kerrigan and Naven obtained Ames' pair of swats.

EDITOR WAS "CLEANED UP"

Speakers of Journalism Week Made Him Feel as Did Little Girl.

One of the visiting editors, before he left for his home yesterday, wrote this incident of Journalism Week for the University Missourian:

As one of the visiting editors from South Missouri was leaving the University grounds today preparatory to catching his train for home he encountered a little girl at the corner of Eighth and Elm streets whose mother had evidently just finished her daily process of ablution and rehabilitation. The little three-year-old ran forward to greet the great molder of thought with conspicuous familiarity, exclaiming the while:

"Look at me! Look at me! I'm cleaned up."

The editor kindly took the child by the hand and with pathos in his voice admonished her:

"So am I, little sister, but don't mention it again until after the 1:45 train leaves."
